

CITY OF JENKS ANIMAL CONTROL

Pet Adoption Application

PLEASE READ BEFORE CONTINUING

Pet ownership is a serious responsibility and should not be entered into lightly. It entails a significant commitment of time, both in training and attention, as well as monetary commitment in not only food, but ongoing veterinary costs. Your pet should be seen by a veterinarian once a year at an absolute minimum. Also, your pet may become ill or injured and require medical care unexpectedly. Failure to provide necessary food, shelter, or medical treatment to prevent suffering is considered cruelty to animals, a felony, under Oklahoma law. Proceed only if you are prepared to make these commitments.
